

next time you face a challenging situation, remember we can make decisions to alter that situation.

Like building a house, brick-by-brick, you're building your pathway to a more peaceful situation.

